New product - Laser printable cavitated white polyester films

SMP developed new laser printable white polyester films: CWL series.

CWL series provide excellent adhesion and printability to dry toner-hot fusion digital printing presses and various printers. One of main features of CWL is a lower density white polyester film than regular white polyester films, which brings smooth and flexible feel for stationary and many other applications. CWL series are matte finish with less than 10% gloss and are available in a range of thickness 200ga to 1000ga.

Please visit a section of Polyester films for more detail information.
